3 WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are small pieces of text sent by your web browser by a website you visit. Cookies are stored in your web browser and allows the website or a third-party to recognise you and make your next visit easier, by making the website more useful to you. Cookies can be “persistent” or “session” cookies.

4 HOW WE USES COOKIES

When you access and use our website, we may place several cookies in your web browser. We use cookies for the following purposes:

- To enable certain functions of our website.
- To provide analytics.
- To store your preferences.
- To enable advertisements delivery, including behavioural advertising.

We use different types of cookies to run our website:

- Essential Cookies - These cookies enable core functionality such as security, verification of identity and network management. These cookies can't be disabled.
- Marketing Cookies - These cookies are used to track advertising effectiveness to provide a more relevant service and deliver better ads to suit your interests.
- Functional Cookies - These cookies collect data to remember choices users make, to improve and give a more personalised experience.
- Analytics Cookies - These cookies help us to understand how visitors interact with our website, discover errors and overall, provide better analytics.

5 THIRD-PARTY COOKIES

In addition to our own cookies, we may also use various third-parties' cookies to report usage and analytical statistics of our website, deliver advertisements on and through our website and enable website functionality.

6 WHAT ARE YOUR CHOICES REGARDING COOKIES

If you would like to delete cookies or instruct your web browser to refuse cookies, please visit the settings feature of your web browser to apply these changes. Alternatively, visit your web browser's help function to seek detail on how to change and apply these functional changes. Please note, if you delete cookies or refuse to accept them, you might not be able to use all the features our website offers, we may not be able to store your preferences, and some of our pages might not display properly.
